Excitement soars ahead of air show

ORGANISERS of the annual Biggin Hill air show say that a solo Spitfire flight will be one of the highlights of this year's display programme.

The WWII Spitfire, pictured, will be flown by top display pilot Nigel Lamb, who will bring the daily flying programme to an emotional close with a low-level display sequence set to music.

He will be at the controls of Spitfire Mk IX, service number MH434 – an aircraft that originally saw action with the Royal Air Force in 1943 and 1944, flying 79 combat missions.

Mr Lamb's eight-minute sequence at the climax of each day's event will be flown to the sound of William Blake's famous hymn Jerusalem, followed by an orchestral version of The Last Post. The music will be heard over the public address system as the aircraft swoops low over the airfield.

Meanwhile, organisers say that new entry procedures are being introduced this year to speed up traffic flow and access time for spectators. Holders of pre-purchased tickets will be issued with a special windscreen 'hanger' that will allow them to enter 'fast track' lanes at the entry point of the airfield and occupy the foremost spaces in the main car park.

The air show takes place at Biggin Hill airport on Saturday, June 27 and Sunday, June 28, with gates opening at 8am on both weekend days. Display flying commences at 11.30 am and runs continuously until 5pm.

Have a say at open meeting

Biggin Hill & District Resident's Association is holding an open meeting to discuss local issues.

The meeting takes place next place from 8pm at St Mark's Church Hall, Church Road next Wednesday, June 24.

According to David Haslam, the association's chairman, the committee is exploring the possibility of erecting roadside signs at the town's entry points to remind people that Biggin Hill was home to the RAF between 1917 and 1994.

The association also wants guidance on how to spend the Biggin Hill Community Fund – a sum of £5,000 donated each year by Biggin Hill airport.

"Once again we are happy to provide a venue for you to have your say so come and let us know about your problems or concerns," Mr Haslam said.

Countdown to annual festival

ORGANISERS of the Biggin Hill Festival Fair have released more details about this year's event.

The fair takes place on Saturday, July 4 at the Recreation Ground in Church Road, Biggin Hill. It opens to the public at 12.30pm and will be officially opened by the deputy mayor.

Spokesman Malcolm Lowing said: "I always say that this year's fair will be bigger and better than last year and this year is no exception! There is a packed programme of arena events taking place throughout the afternoon."

Highlights of the programme include a pride and joy display, which sees vehicle enthusiasts gathering to share their interests, picnic, and enjoy the village fair.

The ever-popular dog show returns and there will be belyndancing by the 'Phoenix-Sahar' group, as well as a gymnastics display by Allstarz gymnastics club.
